

AULTMAN AMBASSADOR PROGRAM
Healthier Together

The Guiding Principles

Make Stark County schools the healthiest schools in the State of Ohio by the year 2032.

Aultman Ambassador Program (AAP) is an umbrella program of Aultman Health Foundation that incorporates various initiatives and projects with a common goal of improving wellness in the community within Stark and surrounding counties. Following are the key guiding principles that all programs and initiatives within AAP are expected to abide by:

1. All initiatives and projects should strive to improve wellness within the community without regard to race, creed, gender, religion, economic status or political affiliations.
2. All projects must be in line with Aultman Health Foundation's not-for-profit status and philosophy.
3. Initiatives and projects have to be community-based relying on pre-existing resources, volunteerism, and collaboration within the community.
4. There shall be no profit or gain, monetary or otherwise, for organizers of projects. However, donations and grants specifically to carry out the project are permissible.
5. Advertisement for purpose of fame is strongly discouraged. However, advertisement for purpose of achieving specific goals within the project is permissible.
6. Publication of design, progress or outcomes of the project for sake of education or community awareness is permissible.
7. Cost-effectiveness and practicality of projects for the sake of ability to replicate projects within other communities is highly desirable.
8. Collaboration between various organizations, companies, entities and individuals within the community to generate a sense of togetherness and common purpose is highly desirable.
9. Any project or initiative under the umbrella of AAP must be approved by the AAP Council.
10. In a case of competing projects, priority will be given to a project based on willingness and eagerness of organizers, participants and subjects of the project.
