DEPARTMENT: Imaging Services

SUMMARY OF THE EXAM

Ultrasound uses high-frequency sound waves to create pictures of organs and tissues inside the body. During the exam, the sonographer uses a small hand-held probe called a transducer to scan the area of the body to be examined. The transducer sends sound waves through the body and collects “echoes” as they bounce off the organs and tissues. Because ultrasound uses sound waves, there is no radiation exposure.

WHAT TO EXPECT

You will be asked to lie down on a cart. The sonographer will apply warm gel to the area of your body to be examined. The gel lets the transducer move smoothly over the skin. The ultrasound images will be visible on a monitor and will be sent to the radiologist for review.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

- Please have a written/electronic order from your doctor to the exam.
- Please bring a complete list of all your medications.
- Please bring a driver’s license or other photo ID.

OTHER SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

Ultrasound waves are disrupted by air or gas but travel easily through liquid. Therefore, some exams have certain requirements:

Abdominal (gallbladder, liver, pancreas) and aorta ultrasound

- Eat a fat-free dinner the night before your exam.

- Do not have anything to eat or drink after midnight or for at least eight hours before your exam.

Renal ultrasound

- You will need to have a full bladder and should not urinate for one hour before your exam.

Obstetrical/pregnancy or pelvic ultrasound

- You will need to have a full bladder. Please drink 32 ounces of clear liquid one and a half hours before your exam and do not urinate until the exam is completed.

LENGTH OF EXAM: Plan on being in the department for about 45 minutes to one hour.

AFTER THE EXAM: You may eat, drink and urinate as desired after the test.

QUESTIONS PRIOR TO YOUR TEST

Call 330-363-6205 weekdays between 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. or weekends between 8 a.m. – 4 p.m. for any questions about your test.

You can expect to receive the results of your exam at your next healthcare provider appointment (if scheduled) or within 10 days of your exam. Please call your healthcare provider if you do not receive your results.

SCHEDULING AND REGISTRATION: Pre-registration is required for an accurate medical record and proper billing. You may be contacted by a patient access representative if we need any information. If you have questions or need to schedule or reschedule your exam, please call 330-363-6288 or 1-800-837-0440 Monday – Friday between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. All exams require a written order from your physician.
